Nebraska Celebrates Diamond Jubilee

CELEBRATION INCLUDES HISTORIC PAGEANT FEATURING OMAHA STUDENTS

Over 100,000 Out-State Visitors at All-State Affair; Omaha and Nebraska Co-operate

All Omaha and Nebraska joined together this week in the celebration of the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee. This celebration is commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the entrance of Nebraska territory into the United States of America.

Approximately 100,000 visitors are attending the celebration and Omaha has prepared an interesting program for their entertainment. The jubilee follows the Ak-Sar-Ben Stock and Horse Show. During the jubilee on Nov. 5, 6, 7, there will be large agricultural exhibits and live stock exhibitions sponsored by the different outstate counties at the Ak-Sar-Ben field.

Parade Tuesday

On Tuesday morning "The Parade of Nations" was held in the downtown streets. There were 10 floats representing different nations, 20 bands, including the University group, and many exhibits.

Dr. Hartley Burr Alexander has prepared a pageant, "The Making of Nebraska," which will be presented at the Ak-Sar-Ben field tonight and tomorrow night. Fifteen hundred persons take part including a chorus of 50 voices.

Omaha Presents Scene 2

The committee in charge has asked the University of Omaha to present scene 2 of this Pageant. This scene features the Indian life and customs in the Middle West. The pageant has four scenes; Fort Crook playing the first one, University of Omaha the second, Creighton the third, and Nebraska Medical the fourth.

Other features of the Jubilee include an aviation program, a story contest, competition to choose the most representative young man and woman in the state on the basis of health, mentality and citizenship, an old fiddler's contest, and a band contest in which over twenty bands take part.

Make the Score Big, Cards!

WILL GIVE SWEATER

Wolf Brothers, clothiers, will give a Cardinal sweater to the person who holds the lucky number in the Pep Squad programs at the Maryville game Saturday.

Prohibition Essay Contest Well Begun

Two Members of University Enter to Compete With Freshmen

Two students of the University of Omaha have already signified their intention of entering the Oratorical division of the contest sponsored by the Anti-Saloon League of America. Freshman Rhetoric class members are being required to hand in an essay for the Essay contest.

Winner Is Delegate

This contest, on the subject, "Ten Years of Prohibition," will be held sometime before the Christmas holidays. The winner of both the Essay and Oratorical divisions of the contest will become a delegate to the Biennial National Convention of the Anti-Saloon League, to be held in Detroit from January 15 to 19. All expenses to and from Detroit, and entertainment will be furnished.

Committee Is Chosen

A Faculty Committee on the contest, consisting of A. M. Johnson, chairman, T. Earl Sullenger, and S. L. Whitman, has been appointed to represent this institution in the state of Nebraska. This committee, together with similar ones from other entrants in the contest, have been organized to boost the contest, and to create enthusiasm and interest.

Legal Fraternity Has Social Mixer

Herbert Story Gives Detailed History of Fraternity to Select Group

"MISS OMAHA" PRESENT

Lambda Phi, legal fraternity of the University of Omaha, met for the second event of the season at the Elks Club, Thursday evening, October 24. Honored guests were a select group of Freshmen and members of the Law faculty.

Mr. W. G. Badham, president of the fraternity, opened the meeting with a few remarks and introduced Mr. Herbert Story, '29, now with the firm of Troyer and Pardee.

Gives History

Mr. Story's talk related to the history and achievements of the fraternity. Starting in 1922 with less than twenty charter members, the organization has grown to include almost two hundred members in the city of Omaha. Lambda Phi now has representatives in almost all branches of the law except the Supreme Court.

John Eldam, next favored the group with an address upon certain features of specialization. Law is fast developing into as divided a field as medicine along specialized lines. The illustrations Mr. Eldam used were quite effective in casting light upon certain phases of this movement.

Songs Presented

Miss Susan Hart next appeared in a few song and dance numbers calculated to sway the minds of those gathered away from purely legal matters.

The "piece de resistance" of the entertainment was furnished by "Miss Omaha," otherwise known as Ellnor Wolfe. Her vocal appeals of "Wouldn't You Like to Love Me" and "Do Something" were well received. Other musical and dance numbers completed the program.

Courts Visited By Criminology Class

The Criminology class of the University of Omaha visited district courts during the last week in October. The tour included visits to the courts of Judge Dineen and Judge Neelich.

This trip was the first of a series of field trips that the class will take during the course.

Mrs. Emery Speaks On Girl Character

Advises Against Selfishness in Friendship Between Girls

"FRIENDSHIP INSPIRES"

After singing the hymn, "Brighten the Corner," Helen Hasselblad led in prayer at the Y. W. meeting Tuesday, October 29, held in the Conservatory. Maxine Delevan sang a vocal solo accompanied by Katherine Bloss.

Mrs. E. W. Emery gave a talk on friendships of college girls. She said that several characteristics which a girl has may repel friendship. Ego is one which may turn away a friend. This ego may be the result of a desire to hide timidity. It may be caused by being spoiled either by family or the high school from which she came where she was one of the popular students.

"Selfishness a Chimp"

Selfish sensitiveness where a girl always goes around with a chip on her shoulder thinking that she is the subject of the gossip of a group and that all unpleasant things said are aimed at her is another repelling characteristic, according to Mrs. Emery.

Another important attribute is jealousy. By this Mrs. Emery explained that a girl tried to monopolize her one girl friend's time and keep her solely for herself. This sort of friendship is not based on love, it is based on the selfish desire to be the only friend of the other girl. She hampers rather than helps her would be friend.

Friendship Aids Soul

"True friendship makes your soul grow, it does not suffocate. Your true friend makes you bigger—inspires you to reach out and be better," said Mrs. Emery.

Assembly Program Speakers Picked

Some of the speakers for the future assembly programs have already been chosen. Among them are: Rabbi Frederick Cohn, who will address the students on the subject, "The Three K's of Religion"; Dr. C. J. Brady, whose subject will be "Twenty Minutes with the Philosophers"; Dr. Frank G. Smith and Dr. C. L. Young, whose subjects are not yet announced; and Dr. E. W. Emery, who will deliver the Thanksgiving Message.

HOMECOMING CELEBRATION PLANNED; APPROXIMATELY 1,000 TO BE HERE

Freshman Class Offers Big All-School Dance in Honor of Home-comers; Two-Day Celebration; Bonfire and Snake Dance on Campus

Y. M. C. A. OFFERS STAG

The first Y. M. Stag Party will be held on Monday, Nov. 11 at 8 o'clock in Jacob's Hall. The program and entertainment will be under the direction of Earl Hargrove and Norwood Woerner. Kenneth Huber will be in charge of the refreshments. Every man in school is cordially invited to attend. Faculty men are especially urged to visit the affair.

Hip! Hip! hooray!
Let's make whoopee
On Homecoming Day!

With this object in view, the Homecoming Committee has made arrangements for a rip-roaring two day celebration Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8 and 9 on the campus grounds. Nearly 1,000 are expected.

The big event, the football game with Maryville State Teachers College, will be preceded by a series of collegiate rallies.

Presidents in Charge

At a meeting of the Student Council and faculty members on Nov. 1 in Irwin A. Hamner's office, it was decided to place the social end of the rally in the charge of Joe Kubat, President of the Pep Club and Merle Mennie, President of the Student Council.

Friday evening, Nov. 8, a huge bonfire and snake dance are to be held on the campus, followed by a pep rally and speeches by members of the team.

Following a big parade composed of the student body, faculty members, and alumni body, the crowd will go to the football field at 15th and Vinton street.

Dinner Follows Game

The game will be followed by a dinner and program in the school cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. L. E. Johnson.

Through means of a $1.00 assessment on each member of the Freshman Class, they will entertain the Omaha University enthusiasts at a dance Saturday night in the gymnasium.

Ray Hansen, Freshman president, has charge of the evening affair.

Belle Ryan Advises Masterful Teaching

Public School Board Member Insists That Teachers Enjoy Teaching

"My plea to young teachers is that when you enter a class-room remember, you are master," declared Miss Belle Ryan, assistant superintendent of the Public Schools in her address on "Teaching as a Profession" before the Education Club on Thursday, Oct. 24, in the conservatory of Joslyn Hall.

"Education Different"

"Today's education is far different than that of years ago for the main objective of education is the stimulation of the child, so that he himself may want to grow."

Miss Ryan, tastefully gowned and well poised, related the increasing need for teachers who are well prepared and who have an adaptation for the teaching profession.

Must Enjoy Teaching

"To be successful, a teacher must be willing to work, to do hard work, and enjoy dealing with children and youth in its various developments," continued Miss Ryan.

TWO THOUSAND HEAR CARL SANDBURG AT TECH HIGH; SINGS AND RECITES

Nebraska Teachers Meet in First General Assembly to Hear Word of Literary Genius—Thirty-eight Definitions of Poetry Read

Approximately two thousand people heard Carl Sandburg, noted American poet, in a program of poems and songs, at the first general assembly of the Nebraska State Teachers' Convention, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Reads Definitions

As an introduction to the recital which was to follow, Mr. Sandburg read some of his thirty-eight definitions of poetry. According to these definitions, poetry is "an echo asking shadow dancers to become its partners," "a pack of invisible keepers," "the achievement of the synthesis of hyacinths and biscuits," and "a mystic, sensuous mixture of fire, smokestacks, waffles, panicles, people, and purple sunsets."

A portion of "Good Morning, America," the title poem in his recent book, was read by Mr. Sandburg. "Good Morning, America," deals with the theme that at all times in history come one country has been at the top of the world, America being in that position at this time. The poem portrays the life of the American people, their language, their ideas and ideals, their hopes, aspirations, and achievements.

Sings Folk Songs

Following the recital of the poem, Mr. Sandburg sang some of the American folk songs that he has gathered in his book, "The American Song Bag." His selections, which he himself accompanied, included a North Carolina mountain song, "He's Gone Away"; a Nebraska plains tune, "Somebody"; a Great Lakes song, which in his opinion is to that region as "The Song of the Volga Boatmen" is to the Volga region; one of the many adaptations of the "boll weevil song"; and a group of Negro spirituals.

Previous to the lecture by Mr. Sandburg, the South High School department of music, including the orchestra and the combined club, presented a musical program of American songs of the centuries. Included were: "America, the Beautiful" by the combined group; "By the Waters of Minnetonka," a vocal solo; Negro spirituals by the choir; and a group of songs from the American song bag.

Schumann Speaks

Dr. Charles Schumann, of the University of Nebraska, gave the opening address at the assembly, his topic being "Literary Genius in Modern."

EDUCATIONAL CONTACTS WITH RED CROSS SHOW SIGNIFICANT TREND

Annual Drive Starting November 11 Will Gain Funds for Advance of Educational Activities—Audience Addressed at Harvard

Addressing an audience at Harvard last summer, an official of the American National Red Cross observed that multitudinous forces were striving continuously to penetrate the surrounding walls of the country's educational system, to impress it in some way, influence its trends, or utilize it otherwise.

The fact that these well springs of education are so guarded makes it especially significant that the American Red Cross is accepted at increasingly numerous points of contact between its services and those of educational bodies and institutions throughout the nation.

Begin Early

This association of the Red Cross with the nation's educational programs begins with earliest school years, and flourishes in the highest institutions. It ranges through a variety of Red Cross services of influence practically.

Women's colleges not alone have adopted the Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick, and Nutrition, but many give credits for completion, including extension credits to teachers who take these courses.

197 Summer Courses

Summer courses in the fundamentals of Junior Red Cross administration were given the past Summer at 197 State universities and normal schools. The Junior Red Cross "credit course" was given this year at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York; George Peabody Institute, Nashville, Tenn.; University of Wisconsin, and University of California.

Another Red Cross summer course in the atmosphere of a center of higher learning was afforded at the University of North Carolina, where Red Cross Representatives gave First Aid instruction, first to a Future Officers' group, which so impressed the heads of the institutions as to lead them to request special lectures to a class of athletic coaches, composed of students from nine states.

ALUMNI OF OMAHA

The active student body and faculty of the University of Omaha extends a most cordial welcome to the alumni of the University who return to the campus for the second annual Homecoming Day on Saturday, November 9.

The graduate of the University who has lived in Omaha, or has visited the campus recently may not be surprised at realizing the unusual growth that has taken place since his graduation days. The out-of-town alumni will be more apt to gasp aloud on noting the changes on the Omaha campus since their retreat. For the alumni who are new to the present campus we hereby conduct a journey about Omaha and attempt to point out the things that may possibly be new to the majority of the visitors.

Alumni, you may not recognize the old campus as the one on which you romped away the merry days of your youth. Under these very trees you made your old acquaintances, met your steadfast friends, conducted your love affairs, and arranged for secret Greek meetings. The two little squirrels chattering high in that maple are not frightened at you but are merely extending to you a hearty welcome along with that of their human companions.

Here in Joslyn Hall is the office of Dr. E. W. Emery, our new president. Of course, you have met Dr. Emery by this time. Perhaps you do not know the new members of the faculty. No less than eleven new instructors came to the University this year. Nearly a thousand new students are here and there about the building. Let us introduce you to a few of them.

Here we have the new Science Hall. Remember the old carriage house where we had the first chemical laboratories? You should drop in on the new Science laboratories some afternoon.

This is the College of Commerce with the Law School and the Night Classes. Many of the instructors here as well as in Joslyn Hall conduct new Extension courses recently inaugurated in our University. The Religious Education department of Joslyn Hall is among the foremost in the recent advance of extension classes in the University of Omaha. Extension courses serve those who are unable to attend classes at the scheduled time.

Have you met Coach Howard, the new football boss? Haven't you seen the team in action? Just wait until Saturday afternoon and you will see one of the finest teams in Nebraska on the League field. You will see a real fight. The old Cardinal spirit of your day is still alive and kicking.

Here is a copy of our Gateway. Notice how large it is now! Remember when you used to turn out a little four column sheet every other week? Take an extra copy along.

Alumnus, make yourself at home in your University.

IS ARMISTICE DAY A FARSE?

Another annual celebration of the signing of the peace contract between blood-thirsty nations will be held on November 11. "Yanks" will pat "Huns" on the back and try to laugh over the old days when they planned to slit each other's throats while shocked Nature looked on in surprise.

War cannot be "laughed off." War is crime. Crime must be prevented. The modern way of preventing crime is through punishment. Punishment is not always the best and only way of preventing crime.

Psychology is rapidly coming to the front in the study of preventing crime. Every man is said to have an "inner soul" which when aroused will be true and firm. Every nation has an "inner soul." Nations who disagree must search each other for a true reason. The majority of people in any land will become blood-thirsty when aroused on by a few scheming men who only see war as a means to an end.

Prevention of war. Prevention of war is one of the problems confronting educators in schools and universities. When the majority of people in the world become smart enough to think clearly perhaps the annual celebration of Armistice Day will not be a farse.

Sigma Chi Pledges Entertain Greeks*Hallowe'en Spirit Advanced by Cornstalk and Pumpkin Decorations

The Greeks on the campus were honored by the pledges of Sigma Chi Omicron at a Halloween Hop, the third of the pledge dances given this fall, held Saturday evening, Oct. 28. Hortense McClung is president of the group.

Further carrying out the Halloween spirit given the gym by the black and orange crepe paper streamers were the cornstalks and pumpkins used about the floor. The Rhythm Boys furnished the music for the affair.

Maxine Shepherd, Virginia Schertz, and Virginia and Josephine Waite formed the committee in charge of the decorations, and Betty Miller arranged the finances.

Among the guests of honor attending were Dr. E. W. Emery, Miss Ida Long, sponsor, Mrs. Rene Stevens, and Dean W. G. James.

Law School Briefs

By W. E. S.

Maybe we shouldn't mention this, but—a certain football center, now attending Law School seemed to have quite an attraction for the two charming entertainers seen at Lambda Phi last Thursday evening. We hazard a guess that there is someone at the campus who holds a stronger power over this young husky for he withheld their advances as he does an opposing team's line—with little or no ground being given. His refusal to co-operate did not benefit the others present who courted attention. They wanted him and would stand for no substitutions.

Among those who entertained at the opening concert of the Omaha Symphony Orchestra were Miss Jessie Grandy, Mr. Franklyn Royce and Mr. Walter E. Schroeder of the Law School.

Phi Delt's Offer Hobgoblin Dance*Bob Day's Orchestra Plays Behind Pumpkin Curtain Drop

On Halloween night the pledges of Phi Delta Psi honored the active chapter and the other Greek organizations on the campus with a Hobgoblin Hop given at Jacobs Hall.

Decorations throughout the gym were of black and orange streamers, forming in the center of the hall a Halloween chandelier. In front of the orchestra hung a pumpkin drop. The music for the dance was furnished by Bob Day's Orchestra.

Cardinals Are Held To 6-6 Tie By Wayne's Weary Wildcats

Omaha Uni. Outplays Kearney And Wins 19-13

SPORTTUTORIAL

GRRR, MARYVILLE! HERE WE COME!

Whoops, my dear! What a game is in store for these dear alumni! What a game for Homecoming Day! My, my, and we should be polite to visiting Maryville!

Saturday's game will be one of those things that just can't be helped. When an irresistible force meets a movable body, i. e., Cardinal Fighters meeting Maryville Mice, the irresistible force cannot help but win with a nice large score.

Omaha Cardinals are going to win. Omaha Cardinals are going to fight like everything with a mob of students, faculty members, and alums fairly rolling on the side-lines. Band members are going to toot like they never tooted before.

What a game, my dear! Really, you should be there!

ROOTER BLOWS OFF STEAM

The following letter has been received from a University of Omaha fan who evidently viewed the recent Wayne game and didn't like some of the decisions at all: Excerpts are published so that the ears of the person for whom it was intended will not become too red.

"To The Gateway: Please publish this. I saw the game at Wayne last Saturday. I saw a fine parade and I thought I was going to see a real good game. . . . What I saw was a couple of good teams playing against each other in a game that was ran by a head-linesman from Nebraska who didn't seem to know football from ping-pong. . . . Such crust! Such fudging I have never seen except in my marble games at grade school. When Leo got sore and almost dropped a neat fist in the bird's eye I was raring to get out there and help him do it.

"I don't mind a bad decision now and then, but when a referee lets a head-linesman lose the game for a team that is doing its best, I get peeved.

"Why didn't that linesman know who was off-side? If he can't spot his man and isn't sure of anything why should football officials let him get out there.

(Signed) A ROOTER.

We too, felt similar feelings when Omaha was so badly penalized during that last quarter, Rooter, but my (also tsk, tsk, and fie, fie) you shouldn't say such things in public.

GOOD LUCK, FELLOWS

Fighting Don Lanspa, the lad with the broken knee, is back at home in the dormitory across the street from the University. His cast is covered with collegiate remarks such as "Go, Gang, Go" and "To Open: Tear on Dotted Line." He has lost lots of weight but still has that "Eat-Em-Up" spirit and is as game as ever. He claims that the only thing bothering him is the fact that his injury keeps him out of the game. Take it easy, Lanspa, boy, and we'll be seeing you next year.

Terrible Tillie, the boy who has a girl friend named Marjie (something), is getting along fairly well with his broken jaw spite of the fact that he has a tough time eating all he wants to. At that, a diet on malted milks shouldn't be so very bad. Tillie and Lanspa are in the same fix. They are like old fire horses, raring to go to the fire, but forced to stay in the pasture and recuperate. We'll be watching for you next year, Tillie. Don't forget to bring Marjie with you next time.

AGAIN OMAHA TRIUMPHS

During the selection of the cast for the Pageant of the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee celebration numerous rumors were broadcast to the effect that several hundred students at Creighton University were eager to take the place of the University of Omaha in the affair.

On Monday afternoon, November 3, no less than thirty University of Omaha students volunteered to fill parts originally intended for Creighton men.

In spite of the countless innuendoes occasionally present in Omaha newspapers, college circles, and business groups, the University of Omaha has a true booster spirit and always will have. Those who are promptly volunteered to fill the places vacated by Creighton students are to be congratulated for having added still another feather in the cardinal cap of the University of Omaha.

LINESMAN WENKE FINDS DISAPPROVAL IN OMAHA BLEACHERS AFTER PENALTIES

Called for Off-sides, Holding, Profanity; Usual Football Accidents Are Used to Aid Wayne

Showing a crowded bleacher chock-full of enthusiastic rooters from Omaha and Wayne, that they were absolutely the best little football scrappers in the state, the Omaha Cardinals suffered a tie game in the tilt with Wayne at the little town on Saturday, Nov. 2. The final score was a 6 to 6 tie.

Wenke Calls Holding

A penalty given the Omaha gang at the direction of Head Linesman Wenke, who hails from the Nebraska University, during the last period, caused several of the Omahans to grit their teeth and be content with losing an otherwise perfectly good game.

The Cards were on the two-yard chalk when the penalizing came. Long passes late in the game took the Cards from their own 33-yard line to the Wayne 24 marker. Kuntzelman went around left end for 10 yards and Huff hauled down another 10 to gain a first down on the 4-yard chalk. Here the penalty was called. A pass was incomplete and remarks from officials brought forth remarks from players. These remarks caused Omaha to retrace steps to the middle of the field. The situation seemed close to being a frame-up.

Wayne Gets Yardage

Hansen was called for fouling on the next uplay. Again came the penalizing, which was a very good method for Wayne to gain lots of yardage. Wayne then took the ball and made still another 15 yards on top of the late penalties. The time-keeper's pistol barked with the Wildcats wearily attempting to stay on the Omaha 8-yard line.

Omaha scored the one touchdown by a series of nice passes, mostly started by Kuntzelman, just after Mrkvicka grabbed a Wayne fumble on the Wayne 31-yard marker.

Tod Forgiven

Kuntzelman had some little trouble in finding an opening in the Wayne bunch where he could drop his passes. Several times he dropped back and took so long to toss the pill that he was downed with the thing in his hands. When he did make good, all was forgiven by the Omaha bunch.

McAtee is credited with making the touchdown for the Cardinals.

Streitwieser, Arthur, Mrkvicka and Kuntzelman took the high spots in the fray. Andrews, the Wayne scorer, took a spot-light in the affair.

Omaha Fighters Win Over Kearney Squad

Dopsters Say Omaha Squad Outplayed

With the exceedingly wise and all-knowing sport dopsters on the Omaha newspapers handing out the tips all against them, the University of Omaha Cardinals turned in a 19 to 13 complete victory over the slippery Antelopes from Kearney State Teacher's college on Saturday, Oct. 26. With coaches on opposing sides declaring that each team out-weighted the other, with sleepy reporters jotting down notes which gave credit to the wrong persons every time, the University of Omaha huskies played a great game against a great team.

Was Omaha Outplayed?

Omaha turned in 19 first downs to 15 made by Kearney. Kearney lost 19 yards from scrimmage while Omaha dropped but 7. Omaha made 144 yards by passing while Kearney gained but 70. Omaha returned kick-offs for 74 yards and Kearney brought the ball back for 60 yards. And in spite of this, Omaha sport writers had the utter crust to say that the Omaha gang was outplayed.

13-12 At Last Period

The last quarter of the game opened with Omaha on the small side of a 13 to 12 score and raring to go. A sudden rush from the Omaha 26 yard chalk to the Antelope goal posts by means of passes and end runs saved the day for Omaha. Huff went to the 39 yard mark. Quinn made 5. Longmeyer made 2. Kuntzelman tossed the ball to Longmeyer for 4 yards and a first down.

One pass was knocked down. Kuntzelman tried another and made good for 27 yards with Quinn carrying the ball.

Kuntzelman Passes

Another pass, the one which clinched the victory for the Cards was one from Kuntzelman to Arthur who was loafing near the Antelope base line. Huff and Longmeyer made the winning score for Omaha. With the tally at 19 to 13 the game was well in the Cardinal sack.

Randall Tollefson who measures along with Bennie Huff in height, was the out-standing player for the Antelopes.

The 100 rooters scheduled to cheer for the Teacher's failed to show up. The lineups:

Omaha	Kearney
Arthur	L. E. Snider
Hansen	L. T. Trall
Fry	L. G. Blazek
Hatcher	C. Wingard
Boehler	R. G. Norman
Sales	R. T. C. Williams
Mrkvicka	R. E. Meyer
McAtee	Q. B. Tollefson
Huff (c)	L. H. Boswell
Kuntzelman	R. H. M. McNickle
Quinn	Q. B. Mason (c)

Quinn's Quips

Next Saturday, eleven representatives of the Maryville State Teachers College, of the "show me" state, will engage our O. U. Cardinals in a thorough and vicious game of football out in Barney Burch's converted arena.

The Missourians are coming as strong as ever, if not even stronger, and we know that Missourians are very set in their ways and have real definite ideas as to the extent of their abilities to surpass (or forward pass). And furthermore, they have plenty of material with which to back up their ideas.

The team that will represent the Teachers on the Omaha Homecoming weekend will average in the vicinity of 115 pounds per participant. That is, they will have an advantage in weight, over Omaha, of about ten pounds per player, an advantage not to be sneezed at.

Besides that, the M. S. T. squad boasts several bright and shining football stars. Among their other luminaries is one Mr. Fisher. As a field general, Mr. Fisher did manfully enough to merit an all-conference position, and this season he has his eye on the same job. Mr. Fisher also rates the distinction of being, in "all probability, the best punter that the Cardinal fans will get to glimpse this year.

The fact that the Cards never do say die is a large point in their favor. The squad is also looking forward to the largest crowd this season to help them keep up that spirit. The boys have got plenty of fight and pep so let's all get out and make the homecoming ovations the loudest and most tremendous the school and players have ever seen.

We sure like the way the papers write up our football games. They at least make the other teams look good.

We wonder when Ottman's going to have a blow-out.

TRANSPORTATION AND THE PART IT PLAYS IN THE MACHINE AGE

ANALYSIS of our so-called "Machine Age" civilization would require volumes, but it can be summarized in a few words. The average citizen today enjoys, as a matter of course, ordinary daily necessities that were beyond the reach or even the dreams of Egyptian Pharaohs, the Greeks in their "palmiest" days, or Roman senators in the hey-day of their ascendancy.

These things are made possible as a result of mass production by the use of machinery—power driven—and our system of communication and distribution which is, of itself, more marvelous than any development of our present-day, complex scheme of things. And that distribution has been made possible by and absolutely is dependent upon our railroads.

In any final analysis we come back to first principles. Without the railroads our frontiers could not have been extended, vast reaches of our country could not have been developed—our rural populations, at great distances from the centers of industrial production could not have enjoyed the benefits of this mass production, and our great industrial population centers could not have been supplied with even the raw materials of manufacture, to say nothing of food from our farms and the basic commodities for clothing and shelter.

More than that, if specific examples are sought we need only to look at the spectacle of California products competing with Texas and Florida in New York, and Florida products successfully competing with those of other sections in the middle west and north, while those of Texas compete successfully at the very doorstep of both California and Florida. All this is possible wholly and solely because of our railroad transportation.

All of this progress and amazing development—our "Machine Age" civilization—is based primarily on widespread general prosperity and the prosperity of each region, community and group is vitally dependent on railroad transportation. General prosperity is dependent on purchasing power and that, in turn, again, is dependent on adequate and dependable transportation by rail.

The railroads are willingly and gladly carrying their full share of the burden and cheerfully contributing a full measure of their quota to the whole situation. They expect to continue to do this. And to this end—

I solicit your co-operation and support.
